My dear vedu ,

It's been a whole year of love, laughter, growth, and countless memories that I will always cherish.

You are the most incredible person I've ever met.

I saw something in you that I haven't seen in any other girl the way you truly understand me.

Of course, it's a different story when you get angry with me ; I don't like that, but you look even more adorable when you're angry.

This year wasn't just about the happy days, but also about how we stood by each other during tough times, learned more about one another, and grew stronger together.

You bring so much light into my life .

Thank you so much for being with me , your patience, your laugh & your endless love .

Forever yours,

Swarnim
